

0028	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Ann Daniels (foreground) and Pen Hadow (background) haul their sledges over uneven ground.
0033	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Ann Daniels (left) and Pen Hadow (right) conducting snow density measurements.
0036	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Pen Hadow man-hauling his 110-kg sledge.
0040	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Ann Daniels paddles across a stretch of open water.
0060	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Pen Hadow speaking via satellite phone to the UK-based Operations team.
0084	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Pen Hadow drilling through the ice, in advance of measuring its thickness.
0102	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Pen Hadow (in blue) and Ann Daniels (in red) haul their 110-kg sledges over a pressure ridge.
	Catlin Arctic Survey, Feb 28th - May 13th 2009, high on the Arctic Ocean. Left to Right: Ann Daniels, Pen Hadow, Martin Hartley at the end of the expedition just before the flight lifted them from the ice after 73 days of surveying and trekking on the floating sea ice..
ASE 01
ASE 02	Plar Bears. Illustration from children's story To Know the Real Answer by Illustrator and Writer Rebecca Morch. The story was commissioned for use with children in Key Stage 1 and 2 by Arctic Survey Education
ASE 03	Northern Lights. Illustration from children's story To Know the Real Answer by Illustrator and Writer Rebecca Morch. The story was commissioned for use with children in Key Stage 1 and 2 by Arctic Survey Education
ASE 04	Icy Wilderness. Illustration from children's story To Know the Real Answer by Illustrator and Writer Rebecca Morch. The story was commissioned for use with children in Key Stage 1 and 2 by Arctic Survey Education
ASE 05	Pen Hadow recording the narration for children's story To Know the Real Answer, Devon, June 2009
ASE 06	Rebecca Morch, Illustrator and Writer of the children's story To Know the Real Answer producing the narration of her story. Deven, June 2009

All photos are free to use in articles and publications relating to ArcticSurvey Education or Catlin Arctic Survey. All expedition photos must be credited to Martin Hartley (www.martinhartley.com), except the Ice Team Portrait (ASE 01) credit Simon Harris-Ward/Catlin Arctic Survey 2009. ASE 02, 03, 04: credit Arctic Survey Education. ASE 05, 06: credit Rod Macrae/MMC